ICB consent

The information which is held on the ICB database relates to credit agreements between ICB members and their customers/members. A condition of such agreements is that the customer agrees that the financial institute/Credit Union may use the data supplied for the purpose of credit checking. Consequently, where an individual enters a credit agreement with an ICB member, details of the individual's performance in complying with the terms of the agreement are input to the ICB "credit file" database, which may be accessed by all member institutions of ICB. Each time a person applies for credit from an ICB member, that institution accesses the ICB "credit file" to ascertain the applicant's performance under any previous agreement credit agreements with ICB members.

I consent to and authorize the Credit Union to process and retain data provided by me in respect of this application, to seek and provide credit references (searches), to record details of any transactions relating to a loan or other credit which may result from this application with the Irish Credit Bureau (ICB) for a period of 5 years from the date of closure of the loan and ICB to record, retain and disclose to its members details of such searches for a period of one year.

I acknowledge that the Credit Union and/or ICB are permitted to disclose any material misstatement of fact contained in the application for financial accommodation to its members and relevant bodies.

I consent to any such application being processed, recorded and retained by ICB.

Please note that you have the right to access personal data held about you by the Credit Union and to correct any such inaccuracies in such data.

If we Malahide Credit Union Limited reject your credit application based on the consultation of a database (i.e. after a search of a database of credit histories) we Malahide Credit Union Limited are required by law to inform you immediately and without charge of the result of such consultation and are also required to provide you with particulars of the database consulted.

To put this in context for you, we should explain that it is our usual practice to consult a database on credit histories as part of our process for considering any application for credit. This can only be done with your permission, because credit history databases contain personal data which is protected by privacy rules. The databases we usually consult contain details, supplied by ourselves and other regulated financial/credit entities, of borrowers' recent credit performance in relation to specific debts to participating credit entities. We send an electronic request to the credit bureau for a credit report, and the credit bureau's database produces an automatic electronic response which shows whether the borrower is in arrears in relation to any credit agreement which has been registered with the database. This report is then considered as one of the factors in our decision on the application for credit.

You should note that, as stated above, the database is compiled using details, supplied by ourselves and other regulated financial/credit entities, in respect of borrowers' recent credit performance in relation to specific debts to participating regulated financial / credit entities. Neither Irish Credit Bureau Limited nor Malahide Credit Union Limited have any control over the information provided by the regulated financial / credit entities which participate in the database and are unable to verify the completeness and accuracy of such information. If you have a concern about the information provided by a regulated financial / credit entity in respect of your past credit performance you can obtain a copy of your own credit report at any time from Irish Credit Bureau Limited by paying a nominal fee.
